

Who We Are...

The mission of New Mexico Adaptive is to enhance the lives of children, adults, and veterans with disabilities to promote quality of life and empower confidence, independence, and health through participation in recreational and educational sports programs within the community.

New Mexico Adaptive is local nonprofit recently created by members of the Albuquerque Kings Wheelchair Basketball Team.

The Albuquerque Kings are an organized, professional wheelchair basketball team in New Mexico who regularly compete in the National Wheelchair Basketball Association. The Kings use wheelchair basketball to promote physical fitness throughout the community. The Kings raise awareness for wheelchair basketball and other adaptive sports by speaking at schools and other public events where they give demonstrations and play games with students, staff, and other attendees. The Kings also hold a clinic once a month that is open to the public for anyone wanting to learn wheelchair basketball. All of this is done to encourage those with and without disabilities by promoting a positive message of exercise and good health. The Kings also provide physical therapy training for medical staff looking to incorporate adaptive sports into their programs, as well as training and awareness for VA staff and patients.
